Community Feedback on the FY 2026-27 Proposed Budget

Community feedback on the proposed budget is a critical component of the annual budget process. Input from Phoenix residents can help the City Council and departments prioritize existing resources and plan for the future. Based on the feedback received, overall residents support the FY 2026-27 proposed budget. Multiple comments were received requesting additional resources in the areas of shade, youth and education, immigration legal defense fund, veterans services, eviction legal services, free public transit, electric buses, the 19th Avenue Community Safety Plan (CSP), the City Prosecutor's Role in CSPs, and Real Time Operations Centers. The information below highlights efforts to date in these areas and plans for the future.

This attachment also includes feedback from residents received at the 12 community budget hearings held across the City from March 30 – April 6 and comments provided through email and phone directly to the Budget & Research Department.

Shade

The City of Phoenix has continued to increase its investment in improving tree and shade coverage citywide, as guided by the Shade Phoenix Plan approved by City Council in November 2024. The Shade Phoenix Plan established a guiding framework for five years of investment to target actions where shade can have the greatest impact on human health and wellbeing, especially for vulnerable populations. City departments and partner agencies have made measurable progress on each of the 36 actions in the Shade Phoenix Plan since its adoption, and 31 of 36 actions were reported to be fully on track or ahead of schedule in the first annual Shade Phoenix Plan progress report completed in fall 2025. Recent and ongoing tree and shade programs have been funded by a combination of sources including the City of Phoenix General Fund, General Obligation Bond, and American Rescue Plan Act Resources, the Transportation 2050 initiative, a U.S. Forest Service Urban and Community Forestry Grant through the Inflation Reduction Act, and philanthropic support from American Forests and the Ford Foundation.

Phoenix's efforts to increase and maintain tree planting in neighborhoods with low tree canopy coverage has been accelerated by the Community Canopy, Canopy for Kids, and Tree Stewards programs funded by the U.S. Forest Service. The Community Canopy program provides free, professionally planted trees for residents along with supplies and tree-care education. Approximately 2,500 trees have been planted through this program to date at more than 1,300 homes, adding to another 2,000 trees planted by the phase of the Community Canopy program funded by the American Rescue Plan Act. Total FY2025-26 Community Canopy expenditures are estimated at $1.3 million. The Canopy for Kids program, which is implemented in partnership with Arizona State University and Watershed Management Group, plants trees, revitalizes landscapes, and provides new environmental education for youth at local schools. More than 200 trees were planted through this program in FY25-26 with estimated expenditures of $245,000, including landscaping and educational components of the program. In partnership with the Arizona Sustainability Alliance, ten Phoenix residents were newly hired and trained this year as Tree Stewards, who will help build tree care knowledge and capacity in participating neighborhoods. 200 additional trees have been planted through the Tree Stewards program, and estimated FY25-26 expenditures including tree planting and compensation for participants is $130,000.

Several city departments have continued making substantial contributions to increasing tree canopy on public property. The Parks and Recreation Department and Street Transportation Department collectively manage approximately $6,000,000 in dedicated funding for tree planting and maintenance, which supports the planting of more than 3,000 trees each year. Maintenance of trees and landscaping on public property is addressed through a combination of city employees and contracted labor. All departments that manage property with trees are participating in the ongoing update to the municipal tree inventory, which will be used to guide more than $1,000,000 in budgeted FY26-27 tree planting investments at city property through the General Obligation Bond.

In addition to tree planting, the City is investing in built shade consistent with the goals and values of the Shade Phoenix Plan. The American Rescue Plan Act-funded Sidewalk Shade Program allocated approximately $2,000,000 to create shade structures benefitting pedestrians at high-use intersections and crosswalks. Designed in concert with a local artist, the structures feature Sonoran Desert-inspired patterns and were completed in spring 2026. The Public Transit Department is on track to meet its annual target of adding shade shelters at 80 bus stops in FY25-26, representing more than $1,400,000 of new investment. 15 playgrounds, pools, and splashpads are scheduled to receive new shade structures through the next two years through the General Obligation Bond program, with a budget of $1,700,000.

Phoenix is also continuing to invest in innovation, partnerships, and professional development of the city workforce to increase local capacity to implement high-impact, state-of-the-art tree and shade programs and policy. Examples of these efforts include completion of the Sombra! Experiments in Shade project led by the Office of Arts and Culture, which created nine temporary unique shade installations in public spaces in Phoenix, as funded by a $1,000,000 grant from the Bloomberg Philanthropies' Public Art Challenge. Phoenix's efforts to engage with the business community on tree and shade programs and other heat mitigation efforts are supported by partnerships with and funding from entities including Resilient Cities Catalyst, Smart Surfaces Coalition, and the Ford Foundation. American Forests, Bloomberg Associates, the Arbor Day Foundation, and a wide suite of local nonprofit, community-based, and academic organizations are also essential collaborators in shaping the city's tree and shade strategy and are critical partners in delivering programs that benefit residents.

More information about Phoenix's complete portfolio of tree and shade programs is available at phoenix.gov/shade or by contacting the Office of Heat Response and Mitigation.

Youth and Education

The City provides a range of services related to early childhood literacy and education, in a variety of ways, including through the Human Services Head Start Program, the Youth and Education Office, Phoenix Public Libraries, and the Parks and Recreation Department. These services are documented below:

- The City of Phoenix Head Start Program provides comprehensive, free early childhood education, health, nutrition, and family support for eligible families with children aged 0-5. The program has an emphasis on school readiness through early learning opportunities that promote strong child outcomes in the areas of social and emotional development, language, cognitive, early reading, science, math, and physical development. These services are provided in partnership with school districts and community-based organizations who provide direct education and care engagement with children Monday thru Friday, while HSD staff provide the family support and health services. The most recently available funded enrollment data included 2,205 children. FY 2026-27 funding is anticipated to be $44.9 million through federal grant funds from the US Department of Health and Human Services Office of Head Start.
- Phoenix Families First Resource Centers (FRCs) serve as safe, supportive community hubs (Burton Barr/ Ceasar Chavez Libraries, Aeroterra, and Beuf Community Center) that promote early literacy and healthy development for pregnant mothers and families with children from birth to age five. The centers provide early childhood education programming and connect families to services tailored to their unique needs. ## Immigration Legal Defense Fund

Some community members asked the City to create an immigration legal defense fund to help individuals facing removal proceedings and their families who are affected.

Cities like Chicago and New York City were referenced as having similar programs. Importantly, the laws in Illinois and New York are different from the laws in Arizona. In those states, state law does not require cities to check whether someone is legally in the United States before giving them local public benefits.

However, Arizona law works differently. Here a city must verify that every applicant for a local public benefit – such as an immigration legal defense fund – is legally present in the United States. Therefore, under Arizona law a legal defense fund could only assist applicants who can prove legal presence in the United States. Additionally, any program would have to be carefully constructed to avoid the Arizona Constitution's strict gift clause restrictions.

Veterans Services and the Veterans Court

The City provides services to veterans through a number of channels, including the Housing and Human Services Departments, as well as through the Veterans Court.

The Veterans Affairs Supportive Housing (VASH) program is a joint effort between HUD and the VA that combines housing vouchers with supportive services to help homeless veterans and their families achieve stable, permanent housing. The City of Phoenix Housing Department currently administers 1,003 VASH vouchers, supported by more than $11M of federal funding, and provides housing to eligible veterans through referrals from the VA.

The Human Services department specifically focuses on veterans within its Community Services and Workforce Development programs. Within the Community Services program (CSP), one dedicated General Funded Caseworker III along with other support staff provided 136 veterans and/or active military households with 172 rent or utility assistance payments totaling $140,000 this fiscal year. Under the Workforce Development program (WDP), veterans receive priority of service, including highest priority for low-income or basic-skills-deficient Veterans, faster access to training and services when resources are limited, and eligibility extends to spouses of veterans in specific cases. The WDP staff work directly with the State's Veteran workforce services as well as maintain a direct referral partnership with US VETS. In FY 2025, 34 veterans and eligible spouses were enrolled in workforce programs.

The Veterans Court looks to address the unique needs of defendants who are veterans of the United States military. The goal of Veterans Court is to help restore those veterans in need to return to being successful, contributing members of the community, by ensuring that veterans participating in the court make contact with specific programs that address the root causes of the behavior and conduct, which resulted in the veteran entering the criminal justice system.

The target population consists of defendants (veterans) who served in the United States Armed Forces who are experiencing treatable behavioral issues such as post-traumatic stress (PTS), traumatic brain injury (TBI), anger management, domestic violence, or substance and alcohol abuse.

Eligible veterans may participate in Veterans Court by voluntarily opting into the court. Veterans Court meets as a separate court docket. A Veterans Administration representative is present and conducts a VA eligibility assessment. The prosecutor and veterans with their attorneys gather in Veterans Court along with the VA coordinator; together they explore the various counseling and behavioral programs available to the veteran and determine which is most appropriate for each veteran. When they reach a decision, a treatment plan is incorporated into a plea agreement that becomes the contract for the veteran's responsibility. The court ultimately must review and accept the agreement for the resolution of the case to be completed.

The veteran must be willing to participate fully with the designated program(s). If the veteran chooses not to participate in the agreed upon program(s), the court removes the case from the Veterans Court docket and returns it to the traditional criminal track. As with other cases within Municipal Court, some cases will be eligible for diversion if the veteran completes specified treatment programs. In most cases, the programs will be specifically tailored for the underlying issues of the veteran. For example, domestic violence cases in a traditional track would be sent to standard domestic violence counseling. Veterans Court sends domestic violence offenders to counseling at the VA. If PTSD is an underlying issue, then PTSD counseling is incorporated into this program.

The VA coordinator and prosecutor regularly review cases to monitor compliance. As part of the therapeutic approach of Veterans Court, frequent sentence review hearings are used to verify the veteran's compliance with the program. This not only establishes accountability for the veteran but also allows the court to recognize the accomplishment of the veteran in taking responsibility for their actions.

For the calendar year 2025, there were 268 defendants responsible for 335 cases in the Phoenix Veterans Court. The Court has two bailiffs and one Judge that oversee the Veterans Court. They do not exclusively handle the Veterans Court only. Veterans' cases are staffed on Thursday, and matters are heard on Friday. The Court is not a provider of services; it convenes the Veterans Court and providers utilized by the Defense and the Prosecutor's Office to assist Veterans.

Services provided to Veterans include, but not limited to, case management, mental health services, housing navigation (rapid re-housing), obtaining VA benefits, social security and disability benefits, counseling, and employment.

Eviction Legal Services

The Human Services Department's Eviction Legal Services (ELS) supports residents by offering no-cost services to eligible persons experiencing an eviction crisis by providing mediation outside of a courtroom proceeding, legal representation, or post-eviction services to address possible impediments to future renting opportunities. This program is funded with $1.2 million in ARPA interest, and began in January 2025 and is forecasted to be funded through June 2027.

In calendar year 2025, the program received 623 applications of which 360 applications were approved for services. During this period, 50% of closed cases achieved overall positive outcomes, including 45% of legal representation cases reducing negative impacts of eviction, 16% of eviction filings being dismissed, and 25% ended with a negotiated settlement. The Human Services Department (HSD) had only one mediation case in the first year of the program. This is primarily due to the short turnaround timeframe of the Arizona eviction process coupled with residents not contacting HSD prior to an eviction filing being submitted by a landlord. HSD has implemented several solutions to combat this challenge, including implementing a community outreach plan targeting areas of high evictions and making direct connections for residents requesting rental assistant and landlord/tenant services to ELS.

Free Public Transit

The cost to ride transit remains low, with fares not having been increased since 2013. A single ride on local bus or light rail service is $2; an all-day pass is capped at $4. Nonetheless, fares are a component of the revenues the City and the region uses to operate transit services, and without a replacement revenue source, transit services would need to be reduced to make up for the lost revenue. Also, while Phoenix has a transit fare ordinance which outlines the cost to ride, Phoenix is one of 18 cities plus Maricopa County which operate transit services as part of the regional transit system the public knows as Valley Metro. As such, any changes to transit fares would require regional concurrence and approval by the Valley Metro Board. Finally, in 2023, the Legislature passed Senate Bill 1102 which allowed Maricopa County to seek approval from the voters of the county to extend the half-cent sales tax through 2045 under Proposition 479. One component of the legislation requires that beginning in fiscal year 2026-2027, a farebox recovery audit be conducted for the regional transit system and that minimum fare recovery ratios be met; the ratio begins at 10% and increases thereafter – eliminating transit fares would not allow the regional transit system to comply with these requirements.

Electric Buses

The City's Public Transit Department (PTD) operates a fleet of 500 heavy-duty buses. 2/3 of the fleet operates on clean-burning natural gas, while 45 hybrid electric buses were also recently added to the fleet. The department is currently piloting twelve (12) battery-electric buses made possible by a competitive Federal Transit Administration grant under the previous federal administration which had goals to transition transit fleets to zero-emissions operating systems; the current administration does not have such goals. Additionally, since July 2023, PTD has been using Renewable Liquefied Natural Gas (RLNG) to fuel the 2/3 of the fleet that uses compressed natural gas. RLNG is a natural gas fuel product generated from the decomposition of organic waste streams, or “biomass.” PTD’s RLNG is primarily sourced from landfill waste streams.

19th Avenue Community Safety Plan (CSP)

This fiscal year, the 19th Avenue CSP advanced through increased enforcement, stronger coordination, and expanded community engagement. The Phoenix Police Department enhanced corridor operations with increased training and focused narcotics operations, multi-week crime-suppression efforts, and visible proactive patrols through Resource Team deployments, officers in training on the light rail, and technology-guided patrol activity. Additional efforts included liquor inspections, traffic enforcement, and Authority to Arrest compliance evaluations.

The Prosecutor’s Office improved alignment with the Transit Unit through job shadowing, early case identification, and leadership meetings, while partnering with City and state agencies on problematic properties and working with MCAO on crime-suppression training, felony travel restrictions, and repeat-offender charging.

Neighborhood Services advanced place-based strategies through coordinated cleanups, support for a new business alliance at Glendale Avenue, and direct neighborhood engagement.

In the coming year, the City will work with the 19th Avenue CSP Community Committee to identify lighting improvements along transit corridors and evaluate effective strategies and funding options. The City will also collaborate with Valley Metro as they research approaches for implementing live light rail system camera feeds, including potential integrations with local and regional public safety partners. Staff will continue working with community and agency partners to identify and pursue appropriate funding opportunities, including federal competitive grants, to support these efforts. These efforts collectively continue to improve safety, coordination, and quality of life along the 19th Avenue corridor.

City Prosecutor's Role in CSPs

Within the CSPs, the City Prosecutor's Office is taking a proactive, data-driven approach to identifying repeat offenders and escalating cases by strengthening collaboration with Phoenix PD and the Maricopa County Attorney's Office (MCAO). Through ride-alongs, regular information-sharing meetings, and coordinated enforcement along key corridors, the office has improved early identification of transit-related and high-risk offenders, enhanced prosecution of focused misdemeanor arrests, and expanded the strategic use of travel restrictions and bond recommendations.

Community Prosecutors handled more than 400 Repeat Offender cases and 40 STOP cases in 2025, securing impactful outcomes such as long-term custody sentences and citywide transit restrictions. The office is also bridging gaps between misdemeanor and felony matters, providing crime-suppression training to officers, and developing improved reporting tools that include streamlined travel-restriction tracking and a citywide repeat-offender report. In addition, the office began tracking instances in 2024 where bond was requested at Initial Appearance but not imposed, documenting more than 600 such cases in 2025. This tracking effort allows prosecutors to better monitor release trends and adjust strategies to protect community safety.

Additionally, the Phoenix Municipal Court is currently developing a new case management system. The existing Court Management System does not easily track several of the data points referenced above, and while the new system is expected to enhance data tracking and analysis, it is not yet clear how all judicial case management information will be captured or reported. Furthermore, data from the Phoenix Municipal Court would not include individuals arrested on felony charges prosecuted by MCAO, such as drug-related offenses.

Real Time Operations Centers

The Police Department will reallocate existing positions to be assigned to Cactus Park (2) and Desert Horizon (2) precincts, enabling 24/7 coverage so technology can be leveraged to support patrol operations day and night. This expanded staff provides one civilian operator, on duty 24/7, in each of the two precincts to run law enforcement databases, cameras, gunshot detection and license plate readers in support of on-duty patrol squads. This expanded coverage maximizes RTOC's capabilities and support to the community.

Dear Mayor Gallego, City Manager, and City Council,

As you finalize the trial budget, I strongly urge you to allocate capital funding to the Street Transportation Department for Right-of-Way (ROW) engineered shade infrastructure along the 19th Avenue corridor. Do not forget the dangerous intersections at 15th Ave & W Camelback and 17th Ave & W Camelback, which experience traffic and pedestrian accidents and fatalities. While temporary cooling centers are vital, our neighborhood requires long-term infrastructure to remain livable and economically vibrant.

The 2008 light rail expansion replaced our mature shade canopy with a massive footprint of concrete and asphalt. Today, these intersections are severe micro-heat islands, making the daily transit experience grueling—and often dangerous—for riders including senior citizens, the disabled, and school aged children during our hottest months.

Therefore, I am specifically requesting budget priority to engineer concrete tree wells, curb bump-outs, and enhanced traffic calming and safety measures along N 19th Ave (3000 to 7000 blocks, Zip Code 85015):

- Expanded Desert Canopy: Installation of desert-adapted shade trees (such as Desert Willows) to reduce the urban heat island effect.
- Enhanced Median Plantings: Native landscaping to improve air quality and safety without obscuring traffic, bike, or pedestrian visibility.
- Community Assets: Support for mixed-use owner-occupied developments and community hubs—Community-Centered Food Hub, a new Phoenix International District senior center, and indoor recreational space—while strictly protecting the Pierson Garden that sits adjacent to the 19th Ave & W Camelback Park & Ride.
- Cultural Identity: Inclusion of culturally representative public art and signage for the International District to celebrate our history and foster economic growth.
- Safe Transit Nodes: Integration of HAWK pedestrian crossing signals, [DarkSky \[darksky.org\]](https://darksky.org) approved upgraded lighting, and high-visibility intersection markings at key light rail and bus stops. By implementing standards from this globally recognized organization headquartered in Arizona, we ensure safe, multi-modal access for all residents while effectively eliminating light trespass and reducing glare in the surrounding neighborhood.

This project supports the City's Vision Zero commitment and addresses a critical Heat Equity gap for transit riders, including school age children, who suffer from extreme exposure in this corridor. Investing in these "cool corridor" improvements now will provide a clear economic return through increased walkability, ridership, and improved local property values.

Thank you for your commitment to a cooler, safer, and more walkable Phoenix.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Flores, Resident, Westown Amended Neighborhood Association

April 14, 2026

Honorable Mayor and Phoenix Council Members,

My name is Leisa McDonald and I am the Executive Director of Matthew House AZ Inc, a local nonprofit organization working with the refugee and immigrant community. Our organization partners with local resettlement agencies and community organizations to providing housing support, employment support and education for newly arrived refugee and immigrant families. While our primary focus is on families in the East Valley, we work with families across the city of Phoenix, particularly those in Ahwatukee and areas around the airport and north of Tempe.

I'm writing today to ask for increased investment in Client Services on behalf of these communities. As we work with refugee and immigrant community members, we are reminded of the challenges they face coming to the United States. They work hard to contribute to our cities and desire to have lives that are secure, stable and meaningful. Since 2022, this has become more and more challenging with rental costs rising and everyday expenses increasing. Additionally, many have lost their food stamp and AHCCCS benefits due to increased paperwork requirements or simply not having a green card yet with the process on pause.

Families are struggling to make ends meet and need resources to help them navigate changes to policies that impact their daily lives. Increasing funding that focuses on flexibility of how funds can be used to best support families along with the case management required to help families navigate policies and institutions is critical for these families to succeed.

Our organization launched in 2021 and we have witnessed firsthand the increasing challenges families are facing. They left untenable circumstances in their home countries only to be faced with support services being removed before they are fully stabilized in the U.S. Our families desire to be good neighbors, contribute to their communities, but they face barriers and need support to do so. Additional funding for these support services can ensure success for all of our communities.

Kind Regards,

Leisa McDonald
Executive Director
